

ACCOUNTABILITY

- WHEREAS, The question of accountability in education has become an important theme; and
- WHEREAS, Teachers and parents sometimes fail to recognize the enormous impact of education through other influences besides the school; and
- WHEREAS, The routines of daily life can have profound educational significance; and
- WHEREAS, Education is a lifelong process; therefore, be it
- RESOLVED, That students, educators, and parents all be considered accountable for the education of children and youth; and, be it further
- RESOLVED, That the Missouri Congress of Parents and Teachers, its units and councils, continue to emphasize the importance of continued cooperation among the school, home, community, and government to develop and provide a stable environment with opportunities for all children and youth to gain a well-rounded education.
